Maryland 19th in Sears Directors' Cup

In final standings released by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), the Terrapins' program was ranked tied for 19th out of 306 Division I schools last year. It is the highest finish for the Terps since the rankings began five years ago, and Maryland's 38-position jump from the No. 57 spot in 1994-95 is the greatest in that time by a school not previously ranked in the Top 25. The Maryland women's lacrosse team contributed 100 points to the school's Sears Directors' Cup ranking by winning the national championship.

University Mission Statement

The University of Maryland is the flagship of the state's higher education system and a prestigious public research university, known for academic excellence in undergraduate and graduate education. The faculty is at the leading edge of scientific, technological, intellectual, and artistic discovery, while remaining focused on teaching. Providing the broadest range of highly challenging programs for the most talented students, the University of Maryland's state-of-the-art facilities and diverse campus community offer an ideal educational atmosphere and a location connecting faculty and students to unlimited resources for scholarly exploration and practical experience. The university also serves the state and region through application of research and expertise to address societal issues and promote economic growth.

The Terrapin Club

What is the Terrapin Club?

As the scholarship fund-raising arm of the athletic department, the Terrapin Club is composed of approximately 4,500 members who contribute money annually to help pay the scholarship costs of our student-athletes. For many student-athletes, scholarships are the only means available to continue their education; for others, scholarships provide the opportunity to compete at the highest level of athletic competition in America's premier conference, the Atlantic Coast Conference. With nearly 600 student-athletes, 400 of whom benefit from scholarship support, the scholarship bill for the coming year is approximately $4.5 million. For the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1998, the Terrapin Club contributed approximately $2.8 million toward scholarships.

How Much Should I Contribute?

As a Terrapin Club member, you can contribute the minimum of $125 or any higher amount. Your benefits of membership, however, do vary depending on your level and amount of contribution. The Terrapin Club is composed of seven levels of membership, ranging from the Top Terp level, where members contribute at least $10,000 per year, to the Silver level, where members contribute $125 per year.

What Benefits Do I Receive for Being a Member?

Members of the Terrapin Club directly assist the university in providing athletic scholarships. In addition, benefits of membership include priority seating for football and basketball, preferred parking, a monthly newsletter, and invitations to receptions and Terrapin Club events. Furthermore, you must be a member of the Terrapin Club to purchase men's basketball season tickets.

What are the Methods of Contributing?

Direct gifts are the most common way of contributing. They are made in the form of cash, stock, checks or credit card (Visa or Mastercard). As a donor, you have the option of contributing once annually or periodically throughout the year.

Still Have Questions?

Call the Terrapin Club at (301) 314-7020 or (800) 653-7667.

The M Club
Athletes Helping Athletes

The M Club, founded in 1923, is one of the oldest letterwinner clubs in the country. The M Club provides many benefits to directly help current and former student-athletes through scholarship support, computers for the academic support computer lab, athletic awards, and recognition of former athletes through the Hall of Fame.

Indirectly, support is provided through the printing of the MAPS Directory and sponsorship of the President's Cup awards for academic achievement and community service. Your membership participation will enable you to receive the monthly athletic department publication (TerpTalk) for information about the current teams and news about former teammates as well as access to custom M Club clothing and license plates. Many benefits are intangible, though, including the satisfaction of having lettered at a great university and being part of a unique and exclusive organization. University of Maryland letterwinners interested in the M Club should call David Diehl at (301) 314-5372.

University of Maryland

Excellence In Education

There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland. As Washingtonian magazine noted in its December, 1997 issue, "...kids are turning down schools like Princeton and Virginia to go to College Park." With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C. and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's — and the country's — best and brightest students.

Attracting them are more than 100 majors and some of the highest-ranked programs in the country. For instance, in the 1998 U.S. News and World Report rankings of graduate schools, the Clark School of Engineering was ranked 13th in the nation, the School of Public Affairs was ranked 27th, and also was named one of the country's 25 best business schools for entrepreneurs by Success magazine. And, the university's School of Music was ranked 30th in the country in the first U.S. News and World Report reputational survey of arts programs since 1994.

The reputation of the School of Music promises to grow when the Maryland Center for the Performing Arts opens in 2000. With a 1,200-seat concert hall, a 300-seat recital hall, a 650-seat proscenium theater, a 200-seat dance studio and a 200-seat experimental theater with state-of-the-art lighting, acoustics and theatrical design elements, it will be an ideal home for university-based performing arts programs.

For exceptional students seeking an exceptional education at the University of Maryland, College Park, there are a number of programs designed to enrich the learning experience. Among them are the Honors Program, ranked among the nine best in the country by Ivy League Programs at State School Prices; College Park Scholars, which encourages students who share common intellectual interests to live and study together in 10 specialty areas; and the Gemstone Program, which links student teams from engineering, the humanities, business and the physical sciences in a four-year research project.

Supporting the research needs of students and faculty are some of the country's best research facilities. In 1994, the largest, most technically advanced research archives in the world — National Archives II — moved to College Park. In addition, just outside of College Park are the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institution and the National Libraries of Agriculture and Medicine, among others. The university itself has the most comprehensive library system in the area.

The University of Maryland, College Park, as the flagship campus of the state higher education system, is a vital part of Maryland's current prosperity and its vision for the future. For students here, the state offers a bounteous extension of the campus' own wealth of opportunity.

High tech, engineering and service industries thrive in proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internship and work-study opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide. The Kennedy Center alone houses the National Symphony Orchestra, five performance stages, an opera company, and the American Film Institute. In Baltimore, one of the great ports of the world, the Inner Harbor has become a cultural magnet for thousands of tourists each year, offering the National Aquarium, the Maryland Science Center, and other attractions.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland, College Park offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities. There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.

President C.D. Mote Jr.

C.D. (Dan) Mote Jr. started his tenure as president of the University of Maryland, College Park, with the same three-word slogan that has guided his entire academic career: "Quality, Quality, Quality."

From his first day in office, Sept. 1, 1998, Mote has shaped his agenda around the achievement of high quality in every aspect of university activity, from students to sports, and from research to community involvement. Fortunately, Maryland was already well on its way.

"Maryland is a university on the move," Mote said. "That's why I am so excited by this position after spending almost my entire academic career at Berkeley. We have a goal to achieve a place among the 10 highest quality universities in America, and I know in my bones that is an achievable goal."

Achieving quality has been Dan Mote's life, from his student days at the University of California at Berkeley, where he earned all of his degrees, through his years as an outstanding teacher and world-renowned researcher and his leadership of a highly successful capital campaign at Berkeley. He arrived in College Park determined to continue the same level of achievement in his new post.

After earning his doctorate in Engineering Mechanics from Berkeley in 1963, Mote spent a year as a research fellow at the University of Birmingham in England, then three years as assistant professor of mechanical engineering at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh before returning to Berkeley in 1967.

There he stayed for more than 30 years before coming to Maryland. He earned tenure in 1969 in the Mechanical Engineering Department, and was promoted to Professor in 1973.

Mote served two terms as vice chair of Mechanical Engineering and served as chair from 1987 to 1991. At that time, he was appointed to the FANUC Chair in Mechanical Systems in addition to being named vice chancellor for University Relations, the post he held until accepting the presidency at Maryland in 1998.

Mote has participated with distinction in every phase of the academic enterprise, including classroom teaching, working with students, basic research, applied research and service to the university and the community.

Much respected by his students, Mote earned the 1971 Distinguished Teaching Award and the 1975 Pi Tau Sigma Excellence in Teaching Award for the University of California. He has supervised more than 50 doctoral students, including several who are still in progress, and more than 60 master's theses. He continued teaching and supervising graduate students even during his administrative assignments, and several of his graduate students from Berkeley commute to Maryland to meet with him as they finish their projects. Mote has stated his intention to teach and work with graduate students at Maryland as well.

Mote's research activities have focused on dynamic systems, instrumentation, vibration and biomechanics. He has achieved international recognition for his work on gyroscopic systems, including high-speed translating and rotating systems such as circular and band saws, computer memory disks and tapes. He also has researched the biomechanics of ski injuries and developed safer ski bindings as a result. His research has resulted in more than 300 scholarly publications as well as patents in the United States, Norway, Finland and Sweden.

A registered professional engineer in California, Mote has served in numerous capacities for professional societies, including the National Academy of Engineering (NAE), the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), and is co-editor of its biannual research series, "Skiing Trauma and Safety."

Mote's work has been supported continuously since 1962 by the National Science Foundation, and he also has received research fellowships from the Royal Norwegian Council for Scientific and Industrial Research. The American Society of Mechanical Engineers International elected him to honorary membership in 1975, and he has been elected as well to fellow grade in the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

He was elected to the prestigious National Academy of Engineering in 1988, and in that same year was awarded the Humboldt Prize by the Federal Republic of Germany. In 1991, the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science awarded him a fellowship.

In 1992, he conceived, designed and implemented a $1.1 billion comprehensive capital campaign, which had achieved more than $800 million at the time he left Berkeley.

Shortly after he arrived at Maryland, this university's ongoing capital campaign passed the halfway point more than four months ahead of schedule, but Mote has said repeatedly that development and capital campaigns are not about raising money.

"It's about building relationships, with alumni, with business and government, with students and parents. We build those relationships by connecting the alumni and friends of the university with the quality people and quality programs on campus. If we succeed in building authentic relationships, fund-raising happens as naturally as water flowing downhill."

Mote and his wife Patsy live in the President's Residence on the College Park campus. They have two grown children.

Did You Know?

★ Maryland has top 20 ranked programs in engineering, computer science, physics, journalism, business, art history, economics, criminology, mathematics, oceanography, astronomy, education, agricultural economics and others.

★ The University Honors Program was selected as one of the nation's nine best in ARCO's Guide to Ivy League Programs at State School Prices.

★ College Park has the state's largest concentration of academically talented students. More than one-third of new students are in invitation-only Honors, College Park Scholars or Gemstone programs.

★ The university collaborates with more than 280 businesses through its Maryland Industrial Partnerships program. The university's incubator has spawned 20 new companies; three have been recognized as among the fastest growing in the state.

★ Maryland is the only university in the southeast quadrant of the United States to have both engineering and business programs ranked in the top 25 by U.S. News and World Report. The College of Education also ranks in the top 25.

Maryland Terrapins

Among the Nation's Best

This is Maryland Athletics

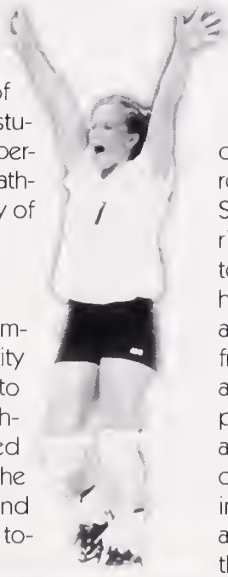
At the University of Maryland, winning is not taken lightly. Like the rich history of all its sports programs, championships are a tradition.

Since the 1950s, Maryland has established itself as one of the most successful athletic programs in the nation. This type of success is no accident; it has been built year-by-year on the achievements of outstanding young men and women who were given the opportunity to excel both on and off the field of play. The victories, the championships and the national acclaim are all ingredients of the Maryland athletic program. Student-athletes who attend Maryland are part of a program and a university which thrive on tradition and excellence.

Academic Excellence

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletic program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body. Since 1983, 88 percent of freshmen scholarship athletes who completed their eligibility at the University of Maryland earned their degrees.



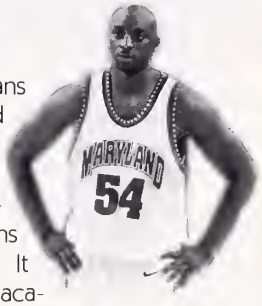
Goals

The great thing about being a Terrapin is the commitment to hard work and dedication. At the University of Maryland, the athletic department is dedicated to supporting a well-balanced Division I program. Athletic director Deborah A. Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department into a responsive and financially sound model — with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence.

Athletic Success

National championships, conference championships, national rankings and postseason play are all a part of the University of Maryland experience. The University of Maryland has established itself as one of the nation's elite athletic programs. The Terrapins have won 13 national championships, including a record four consecutive by the women's lacrosse team. The Terrapins had plenty of reason to celebrate when it came to intercollegiate athletics in 1997-98, as they posted their highest finish ever (No. 19) in the national Sears Directors' Cup all-sports ranking. Its 38-position jump from the No. 57 spot in 1994-95 is the greatest in that time by a school not previously ranked in the top 25.

Competition



Wearing the Maryland uniform means playing in front of some of the loudest and most supportive fans in the nation. It means playing against the best teams in the country, in the most prestigious conference in the country, the ACC. It means wearing the school colors with pride. It means doing your best in athletics and academics. It is a unique and special feeling being a Terrapin.

Athletes in the Community

From the media spotlight to the community spotlight, Terrapin student-athletes strengthen the ties of the local community by serving as role models. Community service is a key part of the Terrapins' agenda. Student-athletes support many community programs which help to enrich the lives of Maryland youth while teaching the importance of studying hard and saying "no" to drugs and alcohol. Representatives from the University of Maryland athletic department speak to participants and use their image and the appeal of sports to encourage Maryland children to stay in school, improve their reading and writing skills, and to receive their high school diplomas.

National Champions: 1981, 1986, 1992, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998

Athletic Director Deborah A. Yow

The University of Maryland athletic department has made remarkable progress under the leadership of Deborah A. Yow over the past four years. Budgets are now balanced and the inherited operating debt of almost $7 million has been paid in full. There is a spirit of excitement and pride at Maryland and the department has a clear vision for its future.

In her inspiring first meeting with the staff, shortly after she was named A.D. in the summer of 1994, she challenged the Terrapin athletic department to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools...to work hard and work smart...to recognize that our only limitations are those which we place upon ourselves."

Yow has rallied the department toward the achievement of five strategic goals:

1) Generate significantly higher revenues with increased corporate sponsorships, aggressive marketing and more effective fund-raising;

2) Boost the graduation rate of Terrapin athletes to a level equal to the general student body;

3) Raise the level of competitive achievement nationally and in the Atlantic Coast Conference, while carefully complying with ACC and NCAA rules;

4) Develop a streamlined, highly efficient athletics organization;

5) Provide outstanding customer service.

In achieving most of these goals over her first four years as athletic director, Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department from a debt-ridden, under-achieving organization to a responsive and financially sound model - with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence. Maryland now ranks in the top 10 percent of all NCAA Division I programs competitively across all sports, is competing effectively in the ACC, and set an enviable record of 150 All-ACC academic honor roll student-athletes. Corporate sponsorship revenues are up 265 percent and annual fund-raising for scholarships has increased 60 percent. Maryland is a remarkably improved athletic program.

In 1997, Yow formed the employee "Committee on Quality in the Workplace" to recommend initiatives to improve working conditions and to design programs to recognize the value of athletic department employees. This has proved to be a wonderful tool in recognizing the worth of the university's outstanding employees across the department. There is a compelling sense that the Terrapin athletic department is a family, with a common goal and a shared purpose.

Maryland's athletic director recently observed, "We have the finest coaches, support staff, and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work, and cooperation that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all our successes...and the basis for our bright future."

Regarding the many achievements of the Terrapin athletic program, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied...our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently...we see no reason to settle for less." Yow, who is a member of the NCAA Management Council and other prestigious national groups, is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and expects maximum effort from herself and those around her. Her words set the tone for everyone in athletics: "Winning isn't everything, but the will to win is." She points out that this applies in the classroom, on the field of competition, and in life.

A former basketball coach, Yow was the first male or female at the Division I level to lead three schools (Kentucky, Oral Roberts, Florida) to their first-ever appearances in the national Top 25. Her previous significant administrative experience came at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro and as a pioneer female athletic director at Saint Louis University (1990-94).

The Maryland athletic department staff is working as a focused, talented and determined team under the dynamic leadership of Dr. Deborah A. Yow and is realizing steady and remarkable progress across all areas, with the best yet to come.

With a clear vision and with high aspirations for Maryland athletics, the Terps prepare to enter the new century on a dramatic upward thrust. The athletics staff embraces this prospect, with gratitude for its successes and with renewed determination to further enhance the program's national stature. It has the skill and determined leadership to reach its lofty goals, as a part of this great university. And it will.

Yow Elected 2nd VP of NACDA

Deborah A. Yow was elected second vice president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics this past June and is scheduled to assume the organization's presidency in July 2000. Her term as second vice-president began July 1. Now in its 33rd year, NACDA serves as the professional and educational association for more than 5,100 college athletic directors, associates, assistants and conference commissioners at more than 1,600 institutions throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. Yow is the second woman to serve as an officer of NACDA (Barbara Hedges, athletic director at the University of Washington, held office from 1994-97).

Athletic Administration

Rob Mullens

Sr. Associate Athletic Director

Rob Mullens, who joined the Terps' staff as assistant athletic director for business in the summer of 1996,-was elevated to senior associate athletic director in February 1999.

Mullens graduated cum laude in 1991 from West Virginia with a degree in business administration. He earned a master's degree in sport management at WVU in 1993. Prior to his appointment at Maryland, he was senior business manager and the chief budget officer for the University of Miami (Fla.) athletic department (1994-96).

He is married to Jane Mullens, who is the Terrapins' assistant athletic director for compliance.

Dave Haglund

Associate Athletic Director for Media Relations

Dave Haglund joined the University of Maryland athletic staff in January of 1998 following a 16-year career in the sports information office at Fresno State University.

A 1981 graduate of Oregon State University, Haglund began his sports information career as an assistant SID at Fresno State in 1981 and was elevated to sports information director in 1996. During the course of his career at Fresno State, he served as the primary contact person for the Bulldogs' nationally ranked Division I football, basketball, baseball and soccer programs. Fresno State led the nation in attendance in baseball, soccer and softball and was among the West Coast leaders in attendance in men's basketball during his time at the central California school.

Haglund and his wife, Cindy, are the parents of two children: Samantha (5) and Matthew (3).

Jane Mullens

SWA / Asst. Athletic Director for Compliance

Jane Mullens was named assistant athletic director for compliance and certification this past May after spending the previous two years as the department's compliance coordinator. She is the senior women's administrator and serves as the department's senior level manager in NCAA compliance and certification matters related to recruiting, eligibility, financial aid and rules education.

Mullens earned a bachelor's degree from Western Washington University in 1992 and a master's in sport management from University of Miami (Fla.) in 1994. She was an assistant in the compliance office at Miami in 1995 before being promoted to compliance coordinator in January 1996.

She is married to Rob Mullens, Maryland's senior associate athletic director.

Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletics program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body.

The mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit, headed by assistant athletic director Demetrius Marlowe, is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance the academic progress, facilitate the career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of every student-athlete.

The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student.

MAPS Directory

This directory, produced annually by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin their professional careers. Distributed to more than 1,000 corporations and businesses around the region, prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements.

Terp Choices

Terp Choices is a program designed to guide student-athletes by orienting, supporting and increasing awareness of the relevant issues pertaining to student-athletes in today's world. The focus of the program is making personal choices and how they may affect an entire team, not just a single individual. Education and interactive workshops are presented to the athletic team and are led by student educators.

Career Information Fairs

Career Awareness in Academic Support is expanding to include a variety of programs which will be offered for student-athletes throughout the semester. Career awareness will be an ongoing process and will include assistance with resume writing and interview skills. The end of the semester will bring a career awareness fair which will host a number of professionals with whom student-athletes can learn about career interests and planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen area of interest.

Team Maryland

Team Maryland is a class taught in conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership in which student-athletes are exposed to leadership and public speaking skills and techniques. The program consists of a group of volunteer student-athletes who learn about the challenges for children in the community by speaking to different elementary schools about drug abuse and the importance of education.

In conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership, participants are taught leadership skills and public speaking techniques to use in their school-based presentation. In addition to school visits, Team Maryland has hosted visits from local schools to our campus.

Strength & Conditioning

Collegiate lacrosse has evolved to the point where total physical preparation is necessary to successfully compete on the Division I level. It has become extremely important to strength and conditioning coach Barry Kagan that all of the Terrapin athletes are prepared through training to maximize their athletic development in terms of strength and conditioning. The high level of dedication by the members of the lacrosse team has brought about spectacular achievements in the weight room and in competition.

The objective of the strength and conditioning program for lacrosse is based on the enhancement of performance as well as the prevention of injuries. Kagan makes every attempt to accommodate the different training needs of each individual athlete.

Barry Kagan

The preparation of a student-athlete to compete in lacrosse goes beyond strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, flexibility, plyometrics, nutrition, agility and conditioning are also important ingredients in the preparation of the lacrosse team here at Maryland. The strength and conditioning staff puts a great emphasis on improving the quickness of the Terps through increased mechanical efficiency and the improvement of acceleration of maximum velocity.

1999 Season Preview

In keeping with recent tradition, the 1999 Maryland Terrapins' women's lacrosse team devised a team motto that typifies the team's long-standing goal: to reach the NCAA Final Four and contend for another national championship. It sets the tone for the squad to continue its amazing success of the '90s. The team enters the 1999 season with the most wins in the nation in this decade (142) and the highest winning percentage (.922) since 1990.

Even with the recent success of the Maryland women's lacrosse program, the 1999 season looks again to be a special one.

After leading the Maryland Terrapins to four consecutive national championships, and nine straight postseason appearances, including the 1998 title, head coach Cindy Timchal and the Maryland coaching staff are preparing what could be one of the most lethal teams in recent history.

Maryland welcomes back seven starters and 16 letterwinners from a 1998 squad that posted an 18-3 record and captured the school's fourth straight national title. Gone from that team is three-time All-America midfielder Sascha Newmarch and two-time All-America attack Cathy Nelson. The 1998 National Midfielder of the Year, Newmarch finished a stellar career as the Terps' fourth-leading all-time scorer with 223 points. Nelson finished right behind her with 217 career points and was named MVP of the 1998 NCAA Championship tournament.

Alex Kahoe

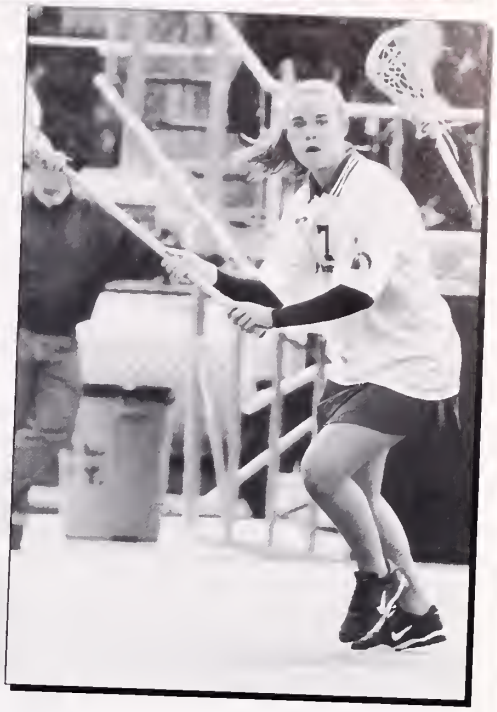
Despite losing All-Americans Newmarch and Nelson, Timchal is confident this year's team will be even more powerful offensively.

Junior Alex Kahoe, who earned All-America honors last season, will continue to hold the reins as the Terrapins' confident commander. Kahoe, a co-captain this year, has been the backbone of the Terrapin defense the past two seasons, and enters her junior season as one of the top players in the NCAA ranks. A two-year starter, Kahoe continues to leave her assault in the Maryland record books, as she established a new school record last year for saves with 269, surpassing the old school record of 233 which she set her freshman year. An NCAA all-tournament team selection in 1998, Kahoe totaled a career-high 21 saves against Virginia in the NCAA championship game, five shy of the tournament record.

Kahoe will be joined by All-American Christie Jenkins. Jenkins, a midfielder from Media, Pa., will key the Terrapin attacking midfield position after recording 30 goals and nine assists last year. A co-captain, she brings to the squad intensity and determination, and has developed into a versatile player for the Terrapins. Jenkins will also be expected to provide a solid defensive game. She finished third on the team last season in caused turnovers with 33.

Along with Jenkins, junior Kristin Sommar will undoubtedly be one of the most dangerous players in the nation. Her playmaking, passing and field savvy are admirable to many. A 1998 first team All-American, Sommar will be a target for opposing teams intent on disrupting Maryland's offense. Last season, Sommar started in all 21 games, tallying 14 goals and 14 assists. The Pennsylvania native has the ability to be part of the attack with the ability to score, and, at the same time, she is one of the Terps' top defensive anchors who will be marking the other team's top offensive threat.

On the other defensive wing is junior Tonia Porras whose tenacious defensive style combined with her quickness allows her to mark some of the nation's top attackers. An ACC all-tournament team selection a year ago, Porras has been a model of hard-nosed tenacity the past two years.



Jen Adams

Juniors Danielle Markette, Tracie Millon and Kerri Mulligan round out a talented junior class.

Markette, another talented defensive specialist, looks to see added playing time after two solid years of experience behind a strong corps of talented upperclassmen.

Millon saw action in eight games as a sophomore and gained valuable experience.

Christie Jenkins

Tonia Porras

She tallied a goal against Vanderbilt and added an assist against William & Mary.

Mulligan, a 5-6 attack, made an immediate impact last season after redshirting as a freshman, playing in all 21 games. Mulligan has the ability to be an impact player this season through both her on-field actions and off-field leadership skills. Mulligan totaled two points last season after scoring two goals.

Timchal's corps of talented juniors will be assisted by a talented group of underclassmen. In fact, Timchal says this year's strength lies in the team's depth and experience.

Jen Adams, a fierce offensive competitor from Brighton, Australia, returns as the Terps' top returning scorer from 1998 (27g-17a-44 pts.). Adams, a 1998 ACC all-tournament team selection, was a breathtaking playmaker up front for the Terrapins last season.

Joining Adams in the attack for Maryland are sophomores Quinn Carney, the Terps' second leading returning scorer of a year ago with 41 points, Allison Comito, Meghan McNamara and Victoria Wellington.

Carney, a member of the 1999 U.S. Developmental Squad, will look to convert Adams' brilliant passes into many goals this season. The 5-6 New Jersey native was one of only three freshmen to start every game, and returns as the Terps' second-leading scorer behind Adams, scoring 27 goals and 17 assists.

Meredith Egan returns after earning the starting nod as a freshman. The 5-11 sophomore midfielder held down the starting role and proved to be a solid contributor for the Terrapins. She established herself as one of the top freshmen in the country last season after registering 22 goals and adding 10 assists.

Comito returns as the Terps' sixth-leading scorer from a year ago. The New York native appeared in 20 games, scoring 19 points. She had a career performance against Old Dominion, scoring three goals and adding two assists in the Terps' 18-1 win against the Monarchs.

McNamara, an aggressive offensive-minded player, is perhaps one of the most promising underclassmen on this year's squad. The 5-4 New York native played in 11 games, scoring five goals and charting one assist.

The 6-1 Wellington brings an added dimension to the game because of her height. She appeared in 17 games last season, scoring six goals and adding one assist, including a hat trick against Towson.

All five of these underclassmen will have to step up their levels of play on the offensive end to account for the loss of departing seniors Sascha Newmarch and Cathy Nelson, who rank fourth and fifth, respectively, in all-time points scored.

Sophomore midfielder Courtney Martinez joins Tonia Porras on the other defensive wing. Martinez, a local product from Towson, Md., has great speed, which helps the Terps in transitional play and in fast-break situations. After an injury forced her to redshirt her freshman year, Martinez showed flashes of brilliance, seeing action in 18 games last year. She collected 17 groundballs and had four caused turnovers.

Sophomore defenders Meg Carrington and Tara Foran, and midfielder Kristin Crawford round out a talented sophomore class. Foran, a St. Mary's of Annapolis graduate, is expected to be an impact player on the defense.

All three should see more playing time in 1999 after gaining valuable experience during their freshman campaign.

Timchal added to her talent-laden team with the addition of freshmen midfielders Courtney Hobbs, Meghan Kelly, Annie Morris and Wendy VanNorden. All should challenge for significant playing time and fill the void that was created by departing senior Sascha Newmarch.

Freshman goalkeeper Kim Blouin, a local product from Annapolis, Md., looks to gain valuable experience playing behind junior All-American goalkeeper Alex Kahoe.

At attack, freshman Debbie Wheat will see playing time and will combine with Jen Adams and Quinn Carney to form one of the most lethal offenses in the country.

The Terrapins open the 1999 season at Penn State before returning home to host ACC rivals Duke and North Carolina, and Syracuse. The Terps then take their talents on the road for a five-game tour, which begins with an NCAA championship rematch at Virginia and concludes at national powerhouse Temple.

The 1999 ACC Tournament begins on April 24 in Chapel Hill, N.C. The Terps conclude their regular-season schedule at home against Princeton and Loyola, respectively, before the NCAA Tournament begins. The NCAA Final Four moves up the road this year to Johns Hopkins on May 14 and May 16.

Head Coach Cindy Timchal

Ninth Year at Maryland • 18th Year Overall • West Chester '76

Regarded as one of the nation's finest and most successful coaches, head coach Cindy Timchal guided the Maryland women's lacrosse program to its pinnacle in 1997—its first-ever back-to-back-to-back national championship—and followed it up with a return trip to the Final Four in 1998, and the school's record fourth consecutive national championship.

Through her 17 seasons as a head lacrosse coach, Timchal has produced staggering numbers. The Pennsylvania native has won 203 career games and has an amazing .799 winning percentage. Among all coaches, she ranks ninth nationally by winning percentage and fourth in total wins. She was most recently selected head coach for the U.S. Developmental Squad which is selected by a committee of USA Lacrosse members.

In eight years at Maryland, Timchal's teams have captured five national championship titles, the inaugural ACC title in 1997, and have played in eight NCAA Tournament games, seven national championship games and one ACC championship game. In addition, Maryland won 50 consecutive games, a winning streak which ran from May 3, 1995, until April 22, 1997. It marked a national record for Division I men's and women's lacrosse, replacing the old record of 42 consecutive wins set by the Cornell men's lacrosse team from 1976-78. Also, Timchal's 1997 squad posted 21 wins which marked the first time a women's lacrosse team won more than 20 games in a season.

Overall, Timchal's teams have advanced to the NCAA Tournament 13 times, including all eight years she has been at Maryland. In those 13 appearances, Timchal has led her teams to five national championship titles, two runner-up trophies, a third-place finish, four fifth-place finishes and one ninth-place finish.

Eight times the Terrapins have advanced to the NCAA Final Four under Timchal. In 1991, her first year, Maryland defeated New Hampshire to advance to her first national final where it lost to Virginia. In 1992, the Terrapins returned and Timchal captured the first national championship of her career, defeating Virginia in the national semifinals and Harvard, 11-10 (OT), in the national championship game. Maryland advanced to the national semifinals in 1993 before losing to Princeton, 7-6. In 1994, the Terps again advanced to the national championship game, defeating Loyola in the semifinals before losing to Princeton in the national finals.

The "Dynasty," however, began for Timchal in 1995. An undefeated 17-0 season was capped off by the Terps' sixth consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament. After earning a bye in the quarterfinals, Maryland advanced to the Final Four for the sixth consecutive time, meeting Penn State in the national semifinals. The Terps easily defeated the Nittany Lions, 12-7, and would meet Princeton for the second time in as many years for the title. Maryland ran away with a 13-5 victory, and just one piece of the so-called "Dynasty."

The second piece of the "Dynasty" came to fruition in 1996, as Maryland recorded another undefeated season at 19-0, and extended its winning streak to 36 games. Again, the road to the national championship began with Princeton, the Terps' first opponent in the national semifinals. And once again the Terps prevailed, winning by a 6-5 margin. That set up a date with Virginia in the finals. The Terps walked away with another national championship trophy.

Back-to-back national champions followed Maryland into the 1997 season. And so did the 36-game winning streak. The "Dynasty" added yet another piece, and a sign of its crumbling was nowhere in sight. The streak extended to 50 games before the Terps lost to Loyola on April 22. Revenge was sweet, however, as the Terps and the Greyhounds met again. This time it was for all of the goods. Maryland won its third consecutive national championship, defeating Loyola 8-7.

It was now the back-to-back-to-back national champions in 1998. Many wondered if the "Dynasty" had finally crumbled after Maryland lost two consecutive games to open the season. Certainly not. In fact, it made the "Dynasty" more durable. In the end, Maryland won its fourth consecutive title, defeating Virginia, 11-5.

Under Timchal's tutelage, many of her players have gone on to enjoy tremendous success. In 1998, the Terrapins had three first team Brine/IWLCA All-Americans. In 1996, Kelly Amonte became the Terps' first four-time All-American, including first-team honors in 1995 and 1996.

Twenty-six Terrapins have earned All-America certificates under Timchal's guidance, including four to Amonte (1993-96), and three apiece to Betsy Elder (1992-94), Sarah Forbes (1995-97), Laura Harmon (1993-95) and Sascha Newmarch (1996-98).

In addition, Timchal has produced 12 players who have played on the U.S. Developmental squad, and seven players who have earned National Player of the Year honors, including Amonte, who was named the 1996 NCAA Division I Most Valuable Player.

Not only has Timchal produced successful athletes on the field, but in the classroom as well. Maryland lacrosse players are proven students. Most recently, Sascha Newmarch earned GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America honors in 1998. Betsy Elder was a two-time academic All-American in 1993-94, while Theresa Ingram and Jamie Brodsky earned honors in 1994 and 1996, respectively.

Timchal attended West Chester University where she lettered in lacrosse, tennis and track and field. Following her graduation, she became an assistant coach at Unionville (Pa.) High School where she coached field hockey, lacrosse and basketball. In 1979, she joined the collegiate ranks, becoming an assistant lacrosse and field hockey coach at the University of Pennsylvania. Following one very successful season at Penn, she became the head coach at Northwestern. She spent nine years at the helm of the Wildcat program where she posted a record of 76-40 (.655). She coached the Wildcats to the NCAA Tournament five times, including three consecutive fifth-place finishes during 1986-88.

Assistant Coach Gary Gait

Sixth year at Maryland • Syracuse '91

Assistant coach Gary Gait is in a league of his own when it comes to national championships. A former lacrosse player at Syracuse, Gait owns a piece of all of Maryland's last four national championships, and was a three-time national champion for the Orangemen. His 15 goals scored in the 1990 NCAA Tournament is a tournament record, and his nine goals against Navy in 1988 is also a NCAA record for most goals in an NCAA Tournament game.

No single person can claim more roles in the lacrosse juggernaut. The most renowned collegiate men's lacrosse player in the nation during his competitive career, Gait elevated Syracuse to three national titles. A three-time All-American, Gait graduated as the Orangemen's career-goal leader with 192. By career's end, he also owned the school's single-season goal record with 70 which he scored in 1988. His individual accolades included the Division I Most Outstanding Player award in 1988 and '90, and the 1988 and '89 Division I Most Outstanding Midfielder honors. Gait ranks sixth all-time on the Syracuse career point chart, totaling 253 points.

Gait, who enters his sixth season as head coach Cindy Timchal's assistant, has contributed greatly to the incredible amount of success that the Terrapins have achieved throughout the years. He is involved in every aspect of the Terrapin lacrosse program, including recruiting and scheduling.

The Victoria, British Columbia native played on three Canadian National Teams, including the 1998 World Cup team which lost to the United States in overtime, 15-14, in the championship. In that game, Gait scored three times and added an assist.

Following his graduation from Syracuse, Gait dominated the now-defunct Major Indoor Lacrosse league throughout the '90s, earning first team all-pro honors the final seven years and claiming the league's MVP award his last three. He is the MIL's all-time points leader with 369.

Two years ago, Gait signed with the Baltimore Thunder of the newly formed National Lacrosse League. In his first year with the Thunder, he captured MVP honors after leading the league in scoring with 40 goals and 32 assists, and shared the top goal-scoring honors with his twin brother, Paul. His 32 assists eclipsed the team record of 24 set in 1989 by Thunder coach John Tucker.

Just this year, Gait tied the all-time record for goals in a game as he led the Thunder to a 21-10 victory against the Toronto Rock. Gait scored 10 goals and added four assists. The 10 goals equaled the record his brother Paul set while playing with the Philadelphia Wings in the-then Major Indoor Lacrosse League.

Gait is married to the former Nicole Black and they have two children, a daughter, Taylor, and a son, Braydin.

Sarah Forbes

First year at Maryland • Maryland '97

Sarah Forbes begins her first season as an assistant coach for the Maryland Terrapins after a successful and decorated four-year career as one of the top offensive players in school history.

A three-time All-American and a four-year starter for the Terps, Forbes ranks seventh all-time in assists (63) and 10th all-time in points (170) at Maryland. Her six assists against Brown in 1997 is also a Maryland single-game record.

The Australian native scored a team-high 58 goals in 1997 to lead the Terps to their third consecutive national championship. For her efforts, she also earned the National Offensive Player of the Year award in 1997, and was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Female Athlete of the Year. An NCAA all-tournament team selection in 1996 and 1997, Forbes was a member of three national championship teams and one national runner-up team during her four-year career at Maryland.

A 1997 graduate of Maryland, Forbes received her degree in marine biology.

Coaching Staff

Helena Herrmann

Student Assistant Coach

Helena Herrmann begins her first season as a student assistant coach after playing for the Terrapins in 1995 and 1998. Herrmann, a member of two of Maryland's national championship teams, earned the starting nod on defense last year and totaled a career-high three assists. In 1995, she scored a career-high two goals and added an assist.

Herrmann will graduate in the spring with a degree in health education.

Cathy Nelson

Student Assistant Coach

Cathy Nelson, the 1998 NCAA Tournament MVP, returns to the Terrapin family as a student assistant coach. The second-leading scorer on last year's NCAA championship team, Nelson finished her stellar four-year career ranked fifth all-time on the Maryland career chart in total points with 217. Her 140 goals rank seventh all-time while her 77 assists are fifth all-time.

A two-time All-American and four-time national champion, Nelson graduated from Maryland this past December, earning her degree in speech communications.

The Maryland women's lacrosse team would like to thank Dr. Jerry Lynch, founder of Taosports, for his hard work, dedication and timeless efforts.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Terps Travel Different Road to Fourth Consecutive Title

More than anything else, 1998 may be remembered as the year that defied all logic for the Maryland women's lacrosse team. It was a year in which the experts said the Terrapins would fall from grace, and after the first week of the season, it looked as though Maryland would prove the critics right. You can call it destiny or you can call it fate, but what was to follow was most certainly a miracle.

Even head coach Cindy Timchal had doubts about the success of her club. After all, 1997 National Offensive Player of the Year and the ACC Female Athlete of the Year, Sarah Forbes, had graduated, and the team was coming off its third consecutive national championship title. And we all know, one of the toughest feats in sports is repeating a championship, let alone doing it a record fourth consecutive time.

Then came a disastrous 0-2 start, as setbacks at Duke (10-6) and North Carolina (10-9) dropped the Terrapins from the top spot for the first time since the first regular-season poll of the 1995 season.

But, as if on cue, the magic words were spoken and the turning point of the season occurred.

The 0-2 start was followed by a 11-game unbeaten streak, which included wins against third-ranked Virginia and seventh-ranked Temple. Seniors Sascha Newmarch and Cathy Nelson ignited the Terrapin offense, including Newmarch's five-goal performance against 12th-ranked Old Dominion and Nelson's five-goal performance against eighth-ranked James Madison.

While Newmarch and Nelson were busy doing the bulk of the scoring for Maryland, sophomore goalkeeper Alex Kahoe was stopping Terrapin opponents from even making the game close. Kahoe, who started all 21 games, registered a 7.35 goals against average and a .644 save percentage.

As the Terrapins kept rolling along, the only interruption of a 15-game winning streak was a 12-10 loss to North Carolina in the semifinals of the ACC Tournament. The squad would finish the regular season 15-3.

It was the NCAA Tournament that will be remembered most. To reach the Final Four for the ninth time in as many years, Maryland needed to get past James Madison in the quarterfinals. After all, Maryland handed the Dukes a 14-11 loss during the regular season.

The third time was the charm for the Terrapins against the North Carolina Tar Heels. The Terps, who had lost twice to North Carolina earlier in the season, finally figured out a way to defeat the Tar Heels. It couldn't have come at a better time, either, as the Terps' 14-9 national semifinal win gave them a date with Virginia in the national championship game. Maryland held a 7-4 halftime advantage before North Carolina would eventually tie the game at seven early in the second half. The Terps took the lead for good when sophomore Christie Jenkins scored unassisted with 21:31 remaining in the second half. The Terps added three goals to extend their lead, 11-7, with just over 13 minutes remaining. Carolina cut the lead to two but Maryland responded with a 3-0 run to end the game.

And so the stage was set. Maryland would face Virginia with the national championship on the line. And, believe it or not, Maryland was the underdog. Sophomore goalkeeper Alex Kahoe made 21 saves to lead the Terps to an 11-5 victory to capture the school's fourth consecutive national title. Kahoe and the Terrapin defense held the top-seeded Cavaliers scoreless for 24:09 after Virginia tied the game 1-1 early in the first half. Senior Cathy Nelson, selected as the tournament's MVP, had four goals, while sophomore Christie Jenkins scored twice and freshman Quinn Carney contributed three assists.

1998 Season Recaps

Game 1 • Duke 10, Maryland 6

Duke sophomore Tricia Martin scored four goals and freshman Courtney Rodgers added three goals and an assist to lead the Blue Devils to a 10-6 upset against top-ranked Maryland in the ACC opener. Duke opened the first half with two quick goals within the first six minutes, but Maryland answered quickly, getting on the scoreboard a minute and a half later as senior Cathy Nelson scored off of a Jen Adams assist. Duke led 7-3 at the half, and struck again quickly in the second half, extending its lead to five. Maryland cut the lead to three after Nelson scored her second goal of the day and freshman Meredith Egan added a goal.

Game 2 • North Carolina 10, Maryland 9

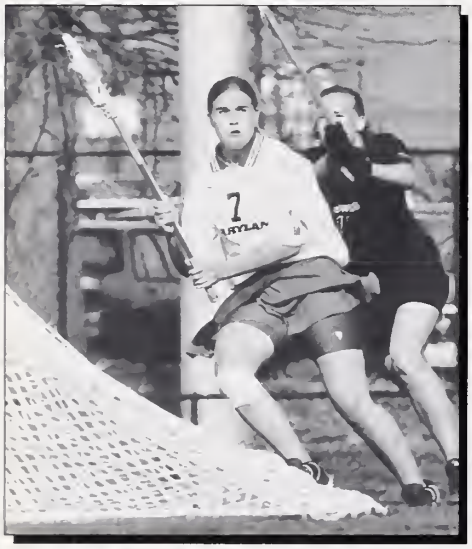
Led by Gray MacNair's three goals and one goal and three assists by senior midfielder Sarah Dacey, North Carolina edged the top-ranked Terps, 10-9. An explosion in the last 1:06 of the first half staked North Carolina to a 7-4 lead as MacNair scored twice and Erin McGinnis added her only goal in a span of 51 seconds to give the Tar Heels their biggest lead of the game. The Terps, who were led by freshman Quinn Carney's three goals, scored two quick goals in the second half to pull within 7-6. Dacey scored the game-winning goal at the 2:04 mark off an assist from McGinnis.

Game 3 • Maryland 21, Syracuse 7

Maryland freshman attack Jen Adams scored a career-high four goals as the No. 5-ranked Maryland Terrapins opened the 1998 home season with a convincing 21-7 victory against Syracuse. After leading 14-3 at the half, the Terps ran off seven more goals in the final 25 minutes of play. Terrapin sophomore Kristin Sommar opened the scoring two minutes into the game with an unassisted goal. The Terps would score eight more goals before the Orangewomen were on the scoreboard. Syracuse posted its first goal in school history at the 16:20 mark in the first half when Kristen Langenmayr scored an unassisted goal.

Game 4 • Maryland 11, Virginia 8

The sixth-ranked Maryland Terrapins outscored third-ranked Virgina five to one in the first half en route to an 11-8 victory. Terrapin senior Cathy Nelson scored her first hat trick of the season as the Terps collected their first ACC win of the season. Maryland built a 3-0 lead 10 minutes into the first half, before allowing the Cavaliers their only goal of the half at the 9:47 mark. Nelson scored her third goal of the afternoon at the 10-minute mark, and freshman Quinn Carney scored the Terps' fifth goal of the half at the 21-minute mark off an assist from Meredith Egan. Maryland blew it open in the final two minutes as sophomores Christie Jenkins and Kristin Sommar and Carney would score three goals, respectively, to solidify the win.



Jen Adams

Game 5 • Maryland 13, Harvard 6

Maryland senior two-time All-America midfielder Sascha Newmarch and sophomore midfielder Kristin Sommar each scored three goals as the No. 6-ranked Terps defeated the Harvard Crimson, 13-6. Newmarch also added two assists. Freshman attack Jen Adams put the Terps up early at the 1:50 mark only to have Harvard senior attack Honor McNaughton tie the game not more than two minutes later. It remained close as both Maryland and Harvard exchanged goals, before Maryland would score four unanswered goals to close out the first half. The Terps would explode in the second half, scoring six unanswered goals before Harvard would score at the 51-minute mark off an unassisted goal by Alli Harper. The Crimson would strike one last time with 26 seconds remaining off a goal by Lauren Corkery.

Game 6 • Maryland 16, Dartmouth 7

Maryland sophomore attack Christie Jenkins scored a career-high four goals and added two assists to lead the fourth-ranked Maryland Terrapins to a 16-7 win over No. 12 Dartmouth. Freshman Quinn Carney scored her third hat trick of the year while senior Cathy Nelson and freshman Jen Adams each added two goals apiece. The Big Green, playing in their season opener, jumped out to an early lead after sophomore Jacque Weitzel scored an unassisted goal at the 3-minute mark. Three minutes later Maryland's Adams scored on an unassisted goal to tie it at one apiece. The first half remained close throughout before the Terps would run off four consecutive goals, including two for Maryland's Nelson, to take a 9-5 lead at half. She totaled five goals on the afternoon. Jenkins notched her fourth goal at the 53-minute mark while freshman Torie Wellington scored with one second left.

Game 7 • Maryland 18, Old Dominion 1

The fourth-ranked Maryland Terrapins exploded for 13 first-half goals and cruised to an 18-1 victory over No. 12 Old Dominion. Terp senior Sascha Newmarch tied a career-high with four goals while senior Cathy Nelson and freshman Allison Comito each added three goals to lead the explosive Terp attack. The outcome was never in jeopardy as the Terps led 13-0 after the first half. Old Dominion would score its only goal of the afternoon at the 50-minute mark when Jenna Bajus would score an unassisted goal.

Game 8 • Maryland 16, Vanderbilt 4

The fourth-ranked Maryland Terrapins outscored Vanderbilt 10-2 in the first half, and went on to defeat the Commodores, 16-4. Maryland senior attack Cathy Nelson scored a career-high five goals while senior Sascha Newmarch assisted on four to give the Terps their sixth straight win. Maryland would score two quick goals before allowing the Commodores on the board. Vanderbilt's Michelle Dillow would score at the 16-minute mark. Maryland would then outscore the Commodores eight to one to take a 10-2 lead at the half. Nelson would score two more goals in the second half while Jenkins notched her third, and the Terps would roll with six goals to end the game.

Game 9 • Maryland 11, Temple 5

The No. 4-ranked Maryland Terrapins extended their winning streak to seven games and senior Sascha Newmarch scored four goals and two assists as the Terps downed the seventh-ranked Temple Owls, 11-5. The Terps limited the Owls' high-powered offensive attack to only two goals in the first half while scoring seven goals of their own, including two by Newmarch.

Kristin Sommar

Temple's Claudia Ovchinnikoff would net two goals at the 53- and 55-minute marks in the second half, and the Owls were able to shut down the Maryland attack for a 15-minute span. Newmarch would close the game with back-to-back goals to solidify the Terps' win. Maryland's Alex Kahoe recorded 12 saves.

Game 10 • Maryland 14, James Madison 11

Maryland senior Cathy Nelson scored five goals, including two during a 7-0 Maryland spurt in the first half, to lead the fourth-ranked Terrapins to a 14-11 victory against eighth-ranked James Madison. With the game tied 1-1 in the early stages, the Terps erupted for seven unanswered goals to take an 8-1 lead with 7:41 remaining before halftime. The Dukes cut the lead to 8-4 at intermission on goals by Amy Brew and Megan Riley in the final minute of the first half, but Nelson scored twice in the first five minutes of the second period to give Maryland a 10-4 advantage. James Madison got as close as three goals when Riley and Julie Martinez scored consecutive tallies to trail 13-10 with 1:51 remaining in the game, but Nelson's fifth goal of the game in the final minute of play sealed the Terps' win. The Terps also received two goals each from Sascha Newmarch, Quinn Carney and Noelle Mitchell.

Game 11 • Maryland 23, Towson 3

Maryland senior midfielder Sascha Newmarch scored three goals and dished out six assists to the lead the fourth-ranked Terrapins to a 23-3 victory against the 13th-ranked Towson Tigers. Newmarch began the scoring less than two minutes into the contest off a pass from senior attack Cathy Nelson, and the Terps never let up, scoring nine unanswered goals in less than 10 minutes. The Tigers finally got on the board at the 7:00 mark when senior Kathy McCafferty found the net off a pass from junior Robyn Harry.

Game 12 • Maryland 15, Brown 6

Maryland senior Cathy Nelson scored four goals and senior Sascha Newmarch added a hat trick as the second-ranked Terrapins downed Brown, 15-6. Nelson scored twice and had one assist in the opening 9:33 of the game, at which point the Terps had five goals on seven shots. Maryland then extended leads to 6-1 and 8-2 before settling for an 11-3 halftime advantage. The Bears held Maryland to just four goals in the second half, but could muster only three of their own.

1998 Season Recaps

Game 13 • Maryland 10, Georgetown 7

Maryland senior Cathy Nelson scored four goals and outscored the 11th-ranked Georgetown Hoyas, 6-3, in the second half to collect their 11th straight win. The Hoyas opened the game early with two quick goals by Lauren Hilsky and Sarah Oglesby before Maryland could get on the scoreboard. Freshman Quinn Carney scored at the 8-minute mark, and Nelson answered a minute later off of a free position shot. Nelson would score once more before the half. The Terps broke a 4-4 halftime tie three minutes into the second half and would never look back, outscoring the Hoyas 6-3 in the second half.

Game 14 • North Carolina 12, Maryland 10
ACC Tournament Semifinal

The top-ranked North Carolina Tar Heels rallied from an early 3-0 deficit to defeat the second-ranked Maryland Terrapins, 12-10, in the semifinals of the ACC Tournament. Maryland scored three times in the first five minutes but the Tar Heels rallied and tied the game at 3-3 halfway through the first period. The Terps took the early lead with a goal by Noelle Mitchell 34 seconds into the game. Senior Sascha Newmarch then scored and assisted in a five-minute span to put the Terps in control, 3-0. North Carolina stormed back behind Lori Pasquantonio as she scored on an unassisted crease dodge 10 minutes into the half, and then took a pass from Gray MacNair to the cage five minutes later. Pasquantonio's pass to Tricia Cummings tied the score at 3-3 with 13:21 to go in the first half. Adams put the Terps up 4-3 but the Tar Heels' Kristin Off answered the Terrapin goal with an unassisted goal. The game featured seven ties and four lead changes before the Tar Heels finally prevailed. Maryland rattled off two quick goals in 44 seconds as Newmarch fed fellow captain Cathy Nelson at the 13:55 mark and Adams scored her fourth goal of the game with an assist from Christie Jenkins to put the Terps up 10-9. But the Tar Heels answered with two quick goals of their own as Pasquantonia converted a free position shot and Erin McGinnis scored an unassisted goal 41 seconds later to retake the lead, 11-10. McGinnis and Pasquantonio hooked up to add an insurance goal for the Tar Heels at the 55-minute mark.

Game 15 • Maryland 16, William & Mary 7

Maryland senior Sascha Newmarch scored four goals and added one assist as the third-ranked Terrapins handed William & Mary a 16-7 defeat. Senior Noelle Mitchell led the Terps in the early going, scoring three consecutive goals in a 6-0 run during a 12-minute stretch. The Tribe tallied the last three goals of the opening stanza to trail 8-5 at intermission. Maryland dominated the second half as senior Cathy Nelson took over scoring duties with three goals. Maryland goalie Alex Kahoe posted 16 saves.

Game 16 • Maryland 14, Penn State 10

Maryland senior Cathy Nelson scored a career-high six goals and freshman Quinn Carney added two as the third-ranked Maryland Terrapins defeated Penn State, 14-10. Nelson would strike first 26 seconds into the contest, and the Terrapins jumped out to an early 4-1 lead, controlling the Penn State attack for nearly 12 minutes before allowing the Nittany Lions' Summer Downing to score at the 9:40 mark. Nelson would score twice more at the 17- and 14-minute marks, respectively. However, Penn State would score at the 7- and 3-minute marks to cut the Terps' lead to 8-6 at the half. The Terrapins opened the second half scoring two quick goals, both from Nelson, and the Maryland defense played pressure defense, stalling the Lion attack for five minutes before Julie Tice would get them on the scoreboard. Nelson would score her sixth and final goal at the 12-minute mark off an assist from Noelle Mitchell. Kristin Sommar would score the Terps' final goal at the 3:44 mark. In goal, Maryland's Alex Kahoe charted 16 saves, marking her second-best effort of the season.

Game 17 • Maryland 12, Princeton 11

Maryland freshman Jen Adams completed a three-point night when she scored the game-winning goal with just 53 seconds remaining, handing the Princeton Tigers a 12-11 loss. Maryland opened an early 2-0 lead on goals by Christie Jenkins and Quinn Carney, but Princeton rallied for three unanswered scores over a six-minute span to stake a one-goal advantage. The Terrapins capitalized on another free-position opportunity to tie the game as Noelle Mitchell found the net off a pass from Cathy Nelson for the first of her three goals on the day. Maryland scored on four of its 12 free-position chances in the contest, while Princeton was just one for five in free-position opportunities. Princeton then began another run, scoring three goals by the 20-minute mark. That advantage was trimmed to 6-5 heading into intermission, however, as Maryland notched two goals in the final 1:06 of the first half. Mitchell tied the game early in the second half, but the Tigers regained the lead on goals by Samaras and Tice Burke. The Terrapins outscored the Tigers 6-3 in the final 25 minutes and took advantage of several Princeton mistakes to steal the one-goal victory.

Game 18 • Maryland 13, Loyola 9

Maryland sophomore midfielder Christie Jenkins scored three second-half goals and senior Sascha Newmarch added two goals and four assists as the third-ranked Maryland Terrapins defeated the fourth-ranked Loyola Greyhounds, 13-9. Jenkins' three goals were instrumental in turning a 5-3 Maryland advantage at halftime into as much as a six-goal bulge in the second half. Her second goal came with 18:06 remaining and the Terps clinging to a 6-5 lead, and her final score came just four minutes later and ended a four-goal barrage that gave Maryland an insurmountable 10-5 lead. Loyola last led at the 9:21 mark of the first half after Kathleen O'Shea's free-position goal gave the Greyhounds a 3-2 lead. Noelle Mitchell had both of her goals and Jen Adams had her second goal in the next nine minutes, giving the Terps the 5-3 halftime advantage.

Game 19 • Maryland 13, James Madison 8
NCAA Tournament Quarterfinal

Maryland sophomore Christie Jenkins scored a team-high three goals and senior Cathy Nelson posted five assists to lead the third-ranked Terrapins to a 13-8 win over sixth-ranked James Madison. The win sent the Terrapins to the 1998 NCAA Final Four in Baltimore, Md. It marked the ninth consecutive season Maryland had advanced to the championship weekend. Maryland jumped on the board early off a feed from Nelson to freshman Meredith Egan (28:28), and would score twice more before the Dukes would make their mark. Dukes sophomore Jess Marion connected off a free position shot at the 17-minute mark. She would score again at the 14-minute mark off a free position shot but the Terps answered with goals from Sascha Newmarch, Allison Comito, Jenkins and Quinn Carney. James Madison's Amy Brew scored two of her three goals on the afternoon in the first half, but Maryland took an 8-5 advantage into the half. The Terp defense would hold check, however, allowing Madison only two more second-half goals, and outscoring the Dukes, 5-3.

Game 20 • Maryland 14, North Carolina 9
NCAA Tournament Semifinal

The third time was the charm for Maryland. The Terps, who had lost twice to North Carolina this season, finally figured out the Tar Heels, breaking a 7-7 tie with a 4-0 run early in the second half and then held on for a 14-9 victory at UMBC Stadium in Baltimore, Md. Maryland senior attack Cathy Nelson led the Terrapins with four goals and senior Sascha Newmarch added three. Maryland took the lead for good when sophomore Christie Jenkins scored unassisted with 21:31 remaining in the second half. The Terps added three goals to go up 11-7 with just over 13 minutes remaining. The Tar Heels responded with a pair of goals to cut the lead to 11-9, but they couldn't get any closer as the Terps closed out the game with a 3-0 run. The Tar Heels built an early 3-1 lead after Sarah Dacey put a shot between the feet of Maryland goalkeeper Alex Kahoe with 16:09 left in the first half. But Newmarch led a Maryland rally by scoring three straight goals in a little over a minute. Her scoring burst was part of a 6-0 Maryland run that gave the Terps a 7-4 lead with 1:40 remaining in the period.

Game 21 • Maryland 11, Virginia 5
NCAA Tournament Championship

Maryland sophomore goalkeeper Alex Kahoe posted a career-high 21 saves, only five shy of the NCAA Tournament record, and helped guide the Terrapins to an 11-5 victory against top-ranked Virginia to claim their fourth straight national championship. Kahoe and the Terrapin defense held the Cavaliers scoreless for 24:09 after Virginia tied the game at 1-1 early in the first half. Senior Cathy Nelson, selected as the tournament's Most Outstanding Player, had four goals for Maryland, while Christie Jenkins scored twice. Quinn Carney contributed three assists. After spotting the Terps a 1-0 lead, Virginia tied the game with a goal from Mills Hook with 18:25 left in the half. But that was the Cavaliers' last goal of the half, and Maryland scored three unanswered goals to forge a 4-1 advantage at intermission. The Terrapin lead increased to 6-1 early in the second half. Hook finally broke the skid for Virginia with 24:16 remaining, but Maryland added three more, capped by Jen Adams' tally with 16:29 remaining.

Seniors Cathy Nelson and Sascha Newmarch hoist the NCAA Championship trophy.
